REGIONE
TOSCANA

Tuscany is a region in central Italy with an area of about 23,000 square kilometers and a population of about 3.8 million inhabitants.

Regione Toscana (Tuscany Region) is the regional authority and administrative body of the region; it has legislative, administrative, and financial autonomy and is responsible, on a regional level, for issues including education, social issues, healthcare, international cooperation, and the environment.

The health system is the sector to which the region commits the largest share of its budget and organizational structure. It is, in spite of and even more so in a period of economic crisis, a driving force of development for the entire regional economy, in which economic development is seen not as an end in itself but also includes, in a context of sustainability, measures tied to the social sector and the environment.

Regione Toscana

The Global Health Center is a multidisciplinary structure of the Tuscany Region (Italy) whose objective is to analyze the connections between globalization and health in terms of equality, human rights, sustainability, diplomacy, and international collaborations.

Thematic Priorities

Past & future of international Cooperation between Kenya and the Tuscany Region

- Significant results have been reached and the path envisaged ten years ago was a right one.
- The GHC and of the Tuscany Region intend to continue to cooperate with Kenya
- Key areas of health cooperation: maternal, new-born and child health, nutrition and hygiene, HIV/AIDS and malaria, emerging chronic diseases, quality and safety of the health care.
- Taking in consideration: the role and the relationship between the community, the peripheral health Units and the hospitals, the inequalities and the social determinants of health, the accessibility of the health facilities for all the people, the training of human resources.

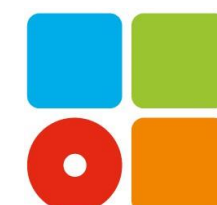

We must use time wisely and forever realize that the time is always ripe to do right
